

My ecological house

My ecological house has sun light all day. It is always warm and dry. It has big windows to have much light.

The electric power is supplied by solar paddles and for the fireplace I use the firewood of the surrounding forest.

The walls of many rooms are tiled to clean up them more easily and they haven't corners. There are impellers of aspiration to have pure air.

There are plants and flowers to make it more beautiful and they help air change.
